

AC 140

To

WITH THE SEASON'S GREETINGS

From

A LEAF FROM A RARE MANUSCRIPT KORAN, in the Naskhi style of calligraphy, done by a skilled Persian scribe, and dated A. H. 1112, or the year 1700 of the Christian era. The language, of course, is Arabic, for no matter where a Koran is transcribed, according to Muhammadan law it must adhere to the language of the adored Prophet. Note the lineness of the script, and the delicate illuminations.

